Two practices under one roof. The father-daughter team of Drs. Samuel Williams and Lisa Williams Petit offer two invaluable practices—in the same Catonsville location.

Pediatric and Young Adult

This five-star-rated Pediatric and Young Adult practice treats patients from birth until early adulthood. Dr. Samuel Williams graduated from Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland School of Medicine. Dr. Lisa W. Petit graduated from the Honors program at University of Maryland College Park and the Howard University School of Medicine.

This Pediatric and Young Adult practice has received rave reviews from its patients, health care plans such as Carefirst and Aetna, and state health agencies. The doctors take pride in listening to the parents and the patients in order to provide the best medical care for the child. Free expectant parent or parent interviews are offered. Visit our website at www.GreatestDocs.com.

Catonsville Travel Vaccines

The services offered by Catonsville Travel Vaccines, the only travel-health clinic in the Catonsville area, begin well before a patient boards the plane. Dr. Williams is a certified Travel Medicine Specialist. Drs. Williams and Petit provide pre-travel consultations, vaccines, and medications to help travelers stay healthy abroad.

Millions of Americans travel to developing countries each year, and many are exposed to such infectious diseases as malaria, typhoid fever, yellow fever, and intestinal infections. Catonsville Travel Vaccines ensures that travelers are protected from the many diseases that exist outside of the U.S. As Dr. Williams likes to say, "You take care of your passport, and we'll take care of your health!"
